

Debra Bonser

I have personal experience with Adrian Bonser. I feel compelled to write this letter as the citizens of Dunwoody will know that Adrian Bonser is not the person she presents herself to be.

I am the first wife of Adrian's husband, Brian. Brian met Adrian when he went to her as a dental client. They began an affair and ended my twenty-six year marriage to Brian (our divorce was final in February 2001). Adrian admitted to me that she knew her relationship with Brian was adultery and that she knew Brian was married when their affair began. If their sexual relationship began when Brian was her dental client, this is unethical behavior for a dentist.

Adrian's former pastor (to whom I have personally spoken) confronted both Brian and Adrian about their behavior while they involved in the affair. Adrian's response was to bring a lawsuit against the pastor.

Adrian's web-page is full of un-truths. Committing adultery and bringing a lawsuit against your pastor when he confronts you about your behavior does not reflect classic or strong family values. Furthermore, Adrian did not sell her practice to focus her attention on her stepsons. My sons were adults and freshmen at Georgia Tech.

I ask that you think seriously before voting for Adrian Bonser.

Sincerely,
Debra J. Bonser
